

About Cherry & White

Cherry & White stands out as a leading international provider of cutting-edge telecommunications solutions, tailored for business and mission-critical networks.

Boasting over twenty-five years of collaboration with core telecommunication providers, we bring extensive expertise in network design, configuration and deployment. Our deep roots in critical infrastructure have earned us a strong reputation in the sector, synonymous with our proactive 'can do' vision.

Working in partnership with a diverse range of OEMs (Original Equipment Manufacturers) like Nokia, eero, Juniper, iLOQ, Metartec, and Safran, we present a competitive and highly reliable solution, ideal for networks of any scale.

Our engineering team specialises in a myriad of technologies, spanning Legacy PDH/SDH to the very latest xPON full-fibre networks. We take pride in our capacity to provide comprehensive end-to-end solutions, ensuring optimal performance and efficiency.

Our OEMs

Engaging directly with a range of OEM's we offer competitive yet highly reliable solutions, perfect for networks of any size and complexity.

Products & Logistics

With an extensive inventory of OEM stock, Cherry & White stands ready to provide swift and efficient solutions for our customers.

We pride ourselves in offering a pre-configured swap-out service, ensuring that product turn-around and deployment are executed with unparalleled speed.

Recognising the critical nature of maintaining network functionality, we are equipped to deploy stock at a moment's notice. Our dedicated team of people work hard to guarantee you a seamless and reliable customer experience.

Our customers trust us with swift and secure product delivery. We ensure that your network is meticulously looked after by upholding the highest standards of customer care and expertise in the industry.

